Bio

Newest Release

At seventeen, Lisa C. Uhrick first gave her "Pledge to America" speech, garnering her well more than fifteen minutes of fame. Delivering her speech hundreds of times, Lisa's love for development blossomed between the folding chairs and podiums. Honored often in a broad-spanning career, Lisa's expertise on individual and collective development has made her a highly sought thought leader. Known for fresh, intriguing connections, Lisa finds inspiration in the love of a big, blended family. Lisa and her husband, Dave, are literacy ambassadors and fearless small-business advocates who believe that manufacturing is sexy. The couple and their four well loved dogs contemplate all that gratitude can bring.

Certified as SPHR; M. Ed. Developmental Psychology; M. Ed. Organizational Development, Ph.D work in Community Literacy with an interest in qualitative research and today's manufacturing/maker spaces
